Title Heacock Family

THE HEACOCK FAMILY.

JONATHAN AND ANN HEACOCK

WHO EMIGRATED TO AMERICA

FROM ENGLAND,

AND SETTLED IN CHESTER COUNTY

PENNSYLVANIA IN 1711,

AND

THEIR DESCENDANTS.

1869.

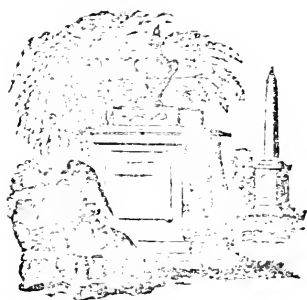

It was the expressed desire of an ancient member of the Heacock family, many years since, that some one should collect its scattered history for preservation. At that time the task could have been more easily effected; but it was delayed until a part was forgotten or lost, and the remainder less easily obtained. In attempting to produce the following account, we had to rely largely upon letters of enquiry, and these were not always directed to those who were well informed in family matters, or took sufficient interest in the subject; and when replies were received, we may not always have fully understood them, or made out the correct spelling of the proper names of persons, and places, and this we offer as an apology, in part, for errors that may appear.

If those into whose hands these sheets may come, would at once take it upon themselves to correct any errors, or supply any deficiencies down to the latest generations that they may notice, being particular to give in plain writing the dates of births, deaths, and marriages, post office address, and any interesting account, to be forwarded to some central point; it might be the means of giving rise to a much more perfect Genealogical History. It cannot be expected that any one is acquainted with the whole family, but having this outline he could with little trouble add to that part with which he was best acquainted; and if these accounts were directed to T. Reece Heacock Lima P. O. Delaware Co. Pa. they may be used as a basis on which to found a more extensive family record.

It was designed in this plan to designate the second generation by means of large capital letters, the third generation by small capitals, the fourth by figures, the fifth by lower case Roman letters and the sixth by Italics, wherever numbering was needed in referring again to the same name. But the manuscript was not all prepared by the same hand, and the one who printed it being a novice in the art, and having, in some measure, to arrange the notes and number them while he was setting type, errors have in consequence crept in.

Delaware Co. Pa. June 1869.

The MEMORIES We Cherish.

Decendents of JONATHAN and ANN HEACOCK who emigrated from England and settled in Marple, then Chester, now Delaware county, Pennsylvania.

Jonathan Heacock and Ann his wife brought certificates of membership from the Wolverhampton monthly meeting of Staffordshire, England, dated the 13th of the 12th month 1710, to Clester monthly meeting of Chester County Pa. They were received the 29th of the 7th month 1718, indicating perhaps the time they settled in America.

Ann Heacock was the daughter of John Till of White Grove Staffordshire, and belonged to Stafford meeting. In 1666, he with others was committed to prison for absence from the National worship and remained there untill 1672, a period of six years, when Charles the 2nd issued his letters patent discharging the people called Quakers from prison, when John Till with others was set at liberty.

We have received it traditionally that three brothers emigrated to America: Jeremiah Heacock who settled near Wilmington Delaware, who remained single, Jonathan whose line we are considering, and the third brother who settled near Boston Mass. and whose decendents are scattered through the western country, the latter spell their name Heacox. Many of the decendants of Jonathan spell their name Haycock, a little different from the way we find it originally written.

We find in an old account book kept by Jonathan Heacock the following memoranda in his own hand-writing.

Jonathan Heacock Feb. 27th. - Direct for Joseph Heacock at Jonathan Harrison's in Trione Corte in Red Lyon street, Spittlefield, London.

Jonathan Heacock and Ann his wife went on board the Three sisters, the 13th of Mar. 1710-11, bound to Belfast in Ireland, the 14th instant.

Sent a letter on the 20th of the instant from Ireland to Staffordshire.

Sent a letter on the 19th of the 2nd month from Belfast Lough in Ireland by the Nupten Bregeteen bound for Liverpool, and came from Barbadoes.

Left Ireland the 23d and came to Loughrane Scotland on the same day, about 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Sailed from thence the 26th at 1 o'clock in the morning.

It would appear from his accounts kept with individuals that he was a dealer in wool and manufactured worsted drugget, tanmy &c. At first he rented, but afterwards he purchased a farm in Marple near the Springfield township line, and cleared it.

Barton adds, after furnishing us with an account of his father's family. "It might be interesting to some of the younger ones to know that my father, Nathan Heacock, settled in Smith township in the spring of 1825, when I was seven years of age. With the exception of a few farms just commenced, it was a vast wilderness. I well remember the paths that led from one place to another, and how William and myself used to go through the woods to mill, on horse-back, with a bushel of corn or wheat, which we would have to wait for, sometimes, nearly as long as it would take our family to eat it. My father and older brothers built a small log cabin with a chimney across the end of it, so that we could put wood in, probably ten feet long.

Now the young folks that are to follow after us may imagine how we looked, being thirteen in family, when we got what would justly be called a log heap on the hearth for a fire, and the wolves howling not far off, which I can well remember hearing. I have probably seen twelve or fourteen deer together in sight of the house.
